Catholic Schools Week

Every Catholic school fosters the holistic development of its students, promotes their wellbeing and encourages them to learn and nurture their talent and skills. Each child has the potential to change the world for the better, making it a kinder, more inclusive and more welcoming place. This week, we celebrate the gifts and talents we have in following Jesus' teaching. This year, we celebrate how we are called to be communities of faith and resilience, through our thoughts, words and actions. In doing so, we follow the words of Jesus in John's Gospel.

We welcome our school children to Mass this Tuesday morning in Clane at 10am.

Association of Catholics in Ireland Synodality, the Parish and Climate Change

Seán McDonagh SSC Supported by The Association of Catholic Priests

Zoom – Jan 27th 2022 – 8pm

As the global climate crisis deepens, so does the crisis of the Irish Catholic Church – intensified unexpectedly by a viral pandemic.

Faced also with understanding and implementing synodality – a new relationship centred on communion, co-responsibility and mission – Irish parish clergy and lay people are challenged by the understandable indifference of younger generations, who are often more alive to the global climate issue.

Meanwhile Pope Francis complains about the fixation of too many on issues of sexuality – while he is also the first pope to appreciate the full importance of the environmental crisis. Advised on the topic of biodiversity by the globally recognised expertise of Columban father Seán McDonagh, the pope's 2015 encyclical Laudato Si' is now a landmark in church teaching and climate awareness.

Could a parish focus on the climate issue now also help solve the Synodality conundrum in Ireland – to convince younger generations, and clergy, that faith and climate justice need one another?

Convinced that parishes can play a key role in meeting Ireland's carbon reduction targets in the 21st century – and that climate concern needs to be a vital focus of the Irish church – Fr Seán McDonagh will Zoom on this theme on January 27th 2022, at 8.00pm.

Prayer when lighting a candle

Lord, may this candle be a light for you to enlighten me in my difficulties and decisions. May it be a fire for you to burn out of me all pride, selfishness and impurity. May it be a flame for you to bring warmth to my heart towards my family, my neighbours and all those who meet me. In leaving this candle I wish to give you myself. May I continue my prayer in everything I do this day.
Amen.
