O Lord, you have shown me my end,

how short is the length of my days.

Now I know how fleeting is my life.

You have given me a short span of days;

my life is as nothing in your sight.

In you rests all my hope.

O Lord, hear my prayer.

In your house I am a passing guest,

a pilgrim, like all my fathers.

(Psalm 39)

- Emily Violet Farrell

Through the cross and resurrection we can approach God with a new freedom and confidence. This is basic Christianity: this is not some new-fangled approach to Christian faith. We are to ask and expect to receive, to seek knowing that we will find, and to knock confident and assured that the door will be opened. God gives his children good things and the best gift he has given us is his Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is the key to prayer because he is the One who can change the way we think. Beware of limiting what God can do. Be bold. Expect the unexpected. God delights and rejoices in our prayers and hears the cry of our heart. How do we know? Jesus says so.

'Enter into the inner chamber of your mind. Shut out all things save God and whatever may hinder you in seeking God.' (St Anselm)
